“The reason I chose coronary care was my dad had a triple heart bypass, in the London Hospital, when he was 59 in 1979, he passed away under the anaesthetic and they revived him. He lived until 2008 and saw two of his great grandsons for which I am eternally grateful. My brother has a stent, my father’s sister had angina. Some of our neighbours and some friends at the Golf Club have been in the Coronary Care Unit at the Countess. They do a wonderful job.”
